

EXPLORER SAFE IN FALKLANDS

Sir Ernest Shackleton, Antarctic Pole Hunter, Arrives at Port Stanley.

LONDON, June 1.—Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, has arrived safely at Port Stanley, Falkland Islands.

Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton's expedition, which had as an object the crossing of the Antarctic continent from Weddell sea to Ross sea, started from England in August, 1914. Sir Ernest with one section went to Buenos Aires and the other section went to Tasmania. At Buenos Aires in October, 1914, Sir Ernest sailed for Weddell sea. The other party later proceeded from Tasmania by the steamer Aurora for Ross sea, where it was hoped Sir Ernest and his party would join it after crossing the continent.

Early in the present year the Aurora returned to Port Chalmers, New Zealand, having broken drift from the ice on May, 1915. Eight of her men were ashore when the vessel broke away and nothing had been heard from Shackleton and his companions at the Ross sea base.

Port Stanley is the capital of the Falkland Islands, which lie in the south Atlantic off the coast of Argentina.

The fact that the section of the expedition headed by Shackleton returned to its virtual point of departure means that the expedition failed in its primary object. This might have been due to difficulties encountered on the journey to the pole or the return of Shackleton to the continent. Atlantic may have resulted from failure to meet with the second section of the expedition proceeding from the opposite direction. Owing to the drifting away of the Aurora, it would have been impossible for Shackleton to complete his journey by way of the Australasian route.

Rejects Idea That Wilson Could Be Peace Mediator

Dr. Gustav Steresmann, National Liberal in Reichstag Raises Applause and Protest.

BERLIN, May 30, 10 p. m. (via London, June 1 (delayed)).—At the session of the reichstag today Dr. Gustav Steresmann, national liberal, in an address rejected the idea that Pres't Wilson would be available as a peace mediator.

"If you take a vote of the German people," said Dr. Steresmann, "only a small minority would accept Pres't Wilson as a mediator, after he has rendered it possible for our enemies to keep going in a military way by intensifying the possibility for the manufacture of munitions, after he has done nothing whatever to utilize the vast power of a great world state to guarantee the shipment of provisions to Germany; after we have found that he has even raised his hand threateningly and proceeded against us with all his power when we tried to defend ourselves against the miserable starting out war. "We would not reject the peace mediation of a really neutral power, possibly the president of Switzerland, but Pres't Wilson's hand we reject, and we believe a great mass of the German people approve our rejection of it."

Loudly Applauded.

The speaker's words were greeted with loud applause, mingled with shouts of disapproval from the socialists.

Herr von Graefe, conservative, sharply attacked the government, accusing it of weakness in dealing with the United States. He answered sharply by Dr. Karl Helfferich, speaking for the first time as secretary of the interior.

Herr Hirsch, national liberal, asked, "Do you believe seriously that Pres't Wilson wants to do anything favorable to Germany?"

"You know he does not, if you recall the answer he sent to the emperor on the subject of breaches of international law by our enemies," said Herr Hirsch, answering his own question.

AMENDMENTS TO NAVAL BILL MADE BY HOUSE

Provide for $11,000,000 Armor Plant and $3,500,000 Worth of Aeroplanes.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Amendments to the naval appropriation bill to provide for a $11,000,000 government armor plate plant, for $3,500,000 instead of $2,000,000 worth of aeroplanes, for 2,720 additional sailors and for a bonus system to encourage the speedy private construction of warships which were adopted Wednesday by the house, sitting as the committee of the whole. Party lines were broken down on every vote. Twenty-three republicans and two progressives joined the democrats in voting for the armor plate proposal. Thirteen democrats lined up with the republicans on the additional aeroplane amendment. The bonus and increased personnel amendments were adopted overwhelmingly without roll call.

Debate on the armor plate amendment, which already had been passed in a separate bill in the senate, centered largely around the question of whether the Bethlehem Steel Co., the largest private manufacturer of plate, had treated the government fairly in dealings with it.

Reps. Butler and Graham of Pennsylvania waged the fight against the naval committee amendment, offering as a substitute an amendment by Mr. Butler looking to a settlement of the controversy between the government and private manufacturers through a federal trade commission investigation. The Butler amendment would have provided for an appropriation for building a government plant, but made its use contingent upon the refusal of private manufacturers to accept contracts at prices judged by the commission to be fair.

News-Times Special Service: INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 1.—Adj't Gen. Frank L. Bridges of the Indiana national guard has announced that national guard companies at Jeffersonville and Evansville have been refused further assistance of the government and that companies at Spencer, Seymour, Lebanon, Mt. Vernon, Winchester and Vincennes had been placed on probation. The action follows withdrawal of federal support from other guard companies in the state in a general house cleaning.

Aged Colored Mammy, Born in Slavery, Dead at Princeton.

News-Times Special Service: PRINCETON, Ind., June 1.—Mrs. Cassie Lewis, colored, believed to be 120 years old, is dead here after being confined to her home for two years. Mrs. Lewis was born in Virginia in slavery and had no definite knowledge of her age, although she knew she had two "good sized" children at the outbreak of the war of 1812. Those who have conversed with her are convinced that she was near 120 if not older.

She had an unusually good memory for events that had happened during her younger days.

ROOSEVELT IN THREE SPEECHES IN ST. LOUIS

Advocates Universal Military Service and Raps German-American Alliance—Incidentally Wilson.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt made three speeches in St. Louis Wednesday, in which he advocated universal military service, declared the German-American alliance was guilty of moral treason and anti-Americanism and denounced Pres't Wilson's Memorial day speech as weak. Cheering crowds greeted him.

Col. Roosevelt maintained that Pres't Wilson used "vessel" words, which sucked the life out of his phrases and made them meaningless.

"When Mr. Wilson speaks of 'universal voluntary training,'" he asserted, "he draws a parallel to a truancy law which would make universal attendance by children at school obligatory to all except those who wanted to keep away."

Mr. Roosevelt averred that he thought well of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Ford. "I like them in private life," he added. "They are nice, amiable men. But I cannot join them in any wild mental pyrotechnics, which is what I should be compelled to do if I should take their ideas seriously."

Col. Roosevelt addressed the largest crowd at the city club in the afternoon, where he said that neutrality that allowed tramping on American rights could not be tolerated and that there could be no Americans who were not Americans to the heart.

I denounce the German-American alliance with all my soul," he shouted. "The acts of leaders constitute moral treason to our government and our people."

Col. Roosevelt left at 4:20 p. m. He will speak at Newark, N. J., on Thursday night.

AT THE THEATERS

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

"A Million a Minute," in which Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are starred, is being shown at the Auditorium today.

Briefly the story of the feature is as follows:

Philip and Miles Quintance quarrel over the love of Ellen Sheridan, and Miles is rejected, while Philip is successful in his suit. Philip dies soon after his son is born and Miles proposes to his widow. When she refuses him, he uses every means in his power to make her unhappy. She leaves the southland where they live, taking her infant son, whom she has named Stephen. When Stephen has grown to manhood, his mother dies, first telling him the story of Miles' persecution. He is so embittered against his uncle, that he avoids meeting him and leaves for south Africa. Pres't here on an exciting tale of adventure begins.

The first chapter of "Gloria's Romance," the new serial in which Billie Burke is being starred, will also be shown today. This story will run for twenty weeks, being shown every Thursday, and promises to be one of the most interesting serial pictures ever given here.

AT THE LASSALLE.

Robert Warwick, the noted stage and screen player, will be featured at the LaSalle today in a play entirely different from anything he has yet appeared in, entitled "Sudden Riches." It is an excellent drama in every respect and shows plainly that the inheritance of great wealth may be the destruction of a previously happy family. With the doors opened to fashion and luxury, husband and wife drift from home and become separate, leaving their love-starved daughter dependent for companionship upon an unfeeling nurse. The threatened death of the child later brings husband and wife together, but not until some very thrilling experiences are encountered by both. Anna Nilsson and Tom Moore will be seen on the same program in the regular release of the "Who's Gilty?" series.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The Dudley Trio are featured on the new bill of vaudeville which opens at the Orpheum today. They will be seen in a high-class singing and musical act entitled "In the Moonlight." A new and clever comedy sketch will be presented by Van and Carle Avery. Mack and Welmar, two clever comedians, will offer a comedy singing and talking act. The Shirley Sisters, two comely girl dancers, will entertain with their new steps and costume changes and the bill will be completed by Harry Hines, who offers character songs.

AT THE COLONIAL.

"Lying Lips," an American-Mutual masterpiece, De Luxe edition, serves as the vehicle for the bow of Winifred Greenwood, as the featured star in these popular photoplay productions. Long a star of Flying "A," short length releases, in which she won for herself a wide circle of followers, Miss Greenwood's promotion to stardom, recently announced by Pres't S. S. Hutchinson of the American Film Co., Inc., was received by exhibitors and fans alike with untold enthusiasm.

For her initial appearance as a De Luxe feature star Miss Greenwood has been cast for a role—that of a Broadway theatrical star—which affords her every opportunity of bringing into play the many
